Commitment to Quality and Innovation

Founded in 1991, Tilos was the first company to bring the concept of a wheeled bag to the diving industry. When this new product hit the market it sent other companies scrambling to create their own version of the Tilos Wheel Bag. Tilos continued to innovate by creating the first compactable wheeled dive bag, the Total Eclipse, which is still being sold today. At just 5 pounds it's the lightest bag of it's size available.

Tilos has continued it's culture of innovation by creating quality products including masks, snorkels, wetsuits, boots, gloves, and much more. Our product development team consists of active scuba divers who test the gear we make and provide insight to make it better.

In 2018 Tilos has continued to innovate. The new TruFit line of boots provide a better fit and more comfort than any boot on the market. We have also updated our premium line of wetsuits with new features and an improved fit. Tilos has high quality, unique masks and snorkels in many styles and colors.

BOOTS

Tilos TruFit Boots

Tilos has developed a new version of the classic vulcanized sole dive boot. The shape follows the profile of the foot instead of the traditional shoe shape. There is also an arch support built into the sole. This means that the boots fit the natural shape of the foot leaving fewer dead spaces in the boot. This provides a more comfortable fit and less space for extra water to enter to boots.

MASKS & SNORKELS

Using the Best Materials

Tilos uses only the best surgical grade silicone in our masks and snorkels. This means that the silicone is crystal clear and resists yellowing. Using top grade silicone also means that our masks have soft skirts which provides a better fit and more comfort. We also use high quality tempered glass in all our masks. We even stock extra buckles and straps, in the unlikely event that you will need to repair your mask.
